

NETwork weekend

22-24
June 2007
Castlewellan

Imagine spending a weekend connecting with students from around Ireland who share your passion for seeing people come to Jesus... the stories of God at work, the energy of shared vision.

Imagine spending a weekend nurturing the gift God has given you... the growth, the stimulation of being stretched and resourced.

Imagine the impact of 20-25 evangelists returning to their campuses, CUs, friends, families, churches and workplaces, freshly inspired and equipped to live out God's design for them and to be catalysts for mission... earth-shaking transformation!

IFES Ireland is pioneering a weekend-long gathering of students whose heart and gifting lies primarily in evangelism. In doing so, our desire is to affirm you in your gift, to envision you and enable you to excel in it, and to create a network of evangelists around Ireland who will continue to support and urge each other on long after the weekend is over.

A fusion of practical training and opportunities to engage with others will help towards fulfilling this aim:

- talks... with main speaker Andy Showell-Rogers from Innovista (creators of "Glad You Asked")
- workshops... on culture, apologetics, prayer and personal evangelism styles with speakers from around Ireland
- q&a panel + prayer... a chance to ask anything to any of the weekend' speakers and then pray passionately together to see Ireland changed by the good news of Jesus Christ
- discussion groups... sharing stories and going deeper with others on the weekend
